Attempt Made on Life of Bolshevik Leader While on Automobile Ride.

FOUR SHOTS ARE FIRED

Russian Government Gives Lie to German Claim That Semi-Official News Bureau is Truthfully Informing the Masses of Negotiations.

By Associated Press. PETROGRAD, Jan. 16.—An automobile carrying Nikolai Lenin, the bolshevik premier, it is reported, was fired upon tonight when he was riding to a meeting of the Council of People's commissaries. Four shots were fired. The premier was not hurt.

Bullets shattered the windows of the automobile. A member of the party with the premier was slightly wounded in the hand.

The attempt on the life of Premier Lenin was made just outside the hall in which he had been addressing 1,000 of the Red Guard who were going to the front. As his automobile swung around the crowd four shots flashed in the darkness. One of the bullets missed his mark by only a few inches and the other lodged in the hand of a wedish Socialist who was in the car. Scores of arrests were made.

GERMAN CENSORSHIP KEEPS MASSES UNDER CONTROL

LONDON, Jan. 16.—The bolshevik government has announced officially, according to a Reuters' dispatch from Petrograd that the report regarding the progress of the peace conference sent out by the Wolff bureau, the German semi-official agency, offers the real sense of the negotiations. Foreign Secretary von Kuehlmann, he dispatch adds, has declared to the Russian delegates that the German government reserves the right to intercept all communications which might excite popular masses in Germany.

UMANIAN MINISTER UNDER ARREST ORDERED RELEASED

PETROGRAD, Jan. 16.—Constantine I. Rumania minister, was released tonight. This decision, M. Valeriu, assistant to Foreign Minister, informed the Associated Press, was taken up at a meeting of the Council of the Peoples Commissaries and after the diplomatic corps had protested to Premier Lenin. Premier Lenin is said to have explained to the diplomatic corps that he realized the imprisonment of M. Diamandi was a breach of international law but declared it was designed as a protest against a similar breach on the part of Rumania in arresting and imprisoning bolshevik troops. Lenin told the diplomats that he himself would not order the release of the Rumanian minister but would have to refer the question to the council of the peoples commissaries.

AMSTERDAM, Jan. 16.—The Wolff bureau, the German semi-official agency, denies a report that Entente states, caught distributing President Wilson's message in Germany on the air would be shot as spies. AMERICAN FORCES IN FRANCE SOUND CALL FOR MORE MECHANICS

Fayette County Is Asked to Provide 25 Men in Appeal Made Public Today.

An urgent call has gone forth for enlistment in Fayette county of men above the draft age for immediate service as mechanics with the American expeditionary forces in France. In an appeal issued by Denton Boyd, of Trotter, chairman of the Civilian Service and Labor Bureau, the county is asked to respond promptly with their quota toward a thousand required of the state of Pennsylvania. This army of mechanics is to be made up within six weeks and will embark immediately for France.

Chairman Boyd has called a meeting of his committee in the work of recruiting for Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the First National Bank building, Uniontown. Temporary recruiting officers were named yesterday—George S. Connell of Connellsville; County Superintendent John S. Carroll of Dunbar; H. G. Sturgis, Uniontown, and H. B. Riley of Brownsville, were named. They will receive applications of men wishing to enter the service.

The following classes of mechanics are desired: Automobile and gas engine men, blacksmiths, forge men, cabinet makers, harness makers, lathe hands, milling and planer hands, tool makers, house and sign painters, sheet metal workers, acetylene welders, wheelwrights, general mechanics and motor truck drivers.

The Motor Mechanics Regiment offers advantages not afforded by other branches of the service. Fully 50 percent of the men recruited will have opportunity at once to rate as non-commissioned officers, it is promised. Active service in France without delay is another inducement.

More complete instructions will follow by mail. Meantime Mr. Boyd's committee will meet to determine the best method or means of providing Fayette county's quota under the call, which it is estimated will be about 25 men. These must be men who are not subject to draft and may be under 21 and over 31 years of age, provided they are not employed in the industries regarded as essential to the prosecution of the war.

FOR COMMUNITY FUND

In an appeal made to Mayor John Duggan by John N. Willys, chairman of the National Committee of the War Camp Community Fund, Connellsville is asked to raise $1,200 to be turned over to the fund. The War Camp Community Fund, Connellsville, like the Y. M. C. A. and K. of C., is endorsed by President Wilson and Secretary Baker.

The communication says that $3,000,000 has been pledged and that Connellsville is one of the few communities that has not responded. The matter has never been placed before the people of the city, who have given beyond their allotment for every other war work. Mayor Duggan had not today evolved a plan for raising the fund.

Of This Amount Sunday Schools and Other Church Organizations Have Already Turned in $247.25; Several Are Yet to Be Heard From.

With less effort than was anticipated the ministers of the city and vicinity with the aid of the Sunday schools have collected the greater part of the allotment for the relief of Armenians and Syrians. A statement issued today by the treasurer, Rev. Wilbur Nelson, shows a total of $2,628.85 forwarded the Armenian and Syrian Relief Fund out of a total of $2,628 which the city was asked to raise.

Reports are not yet in from the United Brethren and Reformed churches in the city or from Laurel Hill and Leaning Presbyterians churches. The committee is also looking for aid from the immaculate conception Catholic congregation. Practically all of the money raised was through the Sunday schools. Subscriptions were received as follows:

BOY SCOUTS DRAFTED FOR THE NEXT LIBERTY LOAN CAMPAIGN

Local Troops Are Expected to Play a Prominent Part in Canvass in February.

COMMISSIONER NOTIFIED

Scout Commissioner A. O. Stone has received word from the treasury department that the Boy Scouts have again been "drafted" to assist in the next Liberty Loan campaign which is expected in February. No dates for the drive were given but the scouts have been notified early in order to give them plenty of time to make plans for the canvass.

The quota which the scouts of the nation are expected to raise in this campaign has not yet been set, but it is not expected that the figure will be as large as in the last campaign, when $50,000,000 was oversubscribed. The scouts in Connellsville won out in a three cornered race with Uniontown and Greensburg and although no meeting has yet been held the question has been discussed by the boys and they intend to go into this drive for another big total. The local troops beat the Greensburg and Uniontown troops combined.

Only scout executives and commissioners have been notified of the work expected of the boys in the coming drive. Through these men the scout masters and boys themselves will work.

The local troops have grown since the last campaign and more boys are expected to be in the field for subscriptions next month. Connellsville scouts raised more than $225,000 last October and every effort to keep up this high standard will be made by them. Nothing has yet been said about the medal rewards to scouts securing large numbers of subscriptions, but it is expected that the government will be heard from on this matter later.

By Associated Press. INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 16.—The resolutions committee of the Union Mine Workers of America, in biennial convention, is expected to report favorably a resolution advocating government ownership of the coal mines of the country provided they are controlled along democratic lines. Not all coal miners it is said are in favor of government ownership as there are many who advocate private ownership where the union workers have 100 per cent organization and work under collective bargain agreements. The resolution expected to be reported will declare that the union miners in the event of government ownership coming to pass shall have representation in the operation of the mines.

THE CONDITIONS OF OPERATION ON R. R.'S NEVER QUITE SO BAD

The Weather and Crippled Motive Power the Main Causes of Delay.

STERN MEASURES TAKEN

By the Baltimore & Ohio in Declaring a Drastic Embargo to Give it Chance to Clear Up the Congestion Which Has Worked Back From Terminals.

For several weeks past, in reality beginning with the cold snap preceding Christmas, railroad operating conditions on the roads serving the coke region, and the Pittsburgh district as a whole, have been about as unfavorable as it is possible for them to be and permit train running at all. So much of the motive power being in need of repairs the cold weather has cut down its efficiency even more than would have occurred with everything in good running order. Train schedules were virtually abandoned, it being physically impossible to maintain the required train speed, not taking into account the numerous delays to which traffic of all kinds is subjected to under usual weather conditions.

Meantime the shops have been filled with crippled locomotives and cars upon which shop forces have been working overtime in order to make them ready for return to service. Under the severe weather conditions which have prevailed more sickness has developed among trainmen, due to exposure, and in consequence the working forces have been more or less reduced. Every operation connected with the movement of cars and trains has been slowed down in yards, at scales and on the main tracks.

Never before has train service been quite so nearly suspended as during the past week. The west was virtually cut off from the east for the greater part of two days and even yet service between the two sections is intermittent and irregular. While this is true of passenger service it is even more true of freight service. Much of it is supposed to move on what is the equivalent of a passenger schedule, under rush orders from headquarters of Director General McArdoo, but it suffered the same handicaps as other forms of traffic.

Indicative of the freight situation which prevailed was the embargo laid by the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, against all shipments other than of coal, coke, iron ore and furnace stone originating at points on its own lines and from connecting lines, both in car lots and less than car lots. This was probably the most drastic embargo yet placed by any road, no exception being made by it in favor of government freight, nor perishable commodities, nor livestock, as has been the custom heretofore. The order, which canceled all embargo orders previously made, was designed to effect a clearing up of traffic congestion, particularly in the Pittsburgh district.

It is the intention of the Baltimore & Ohio to continue this embargo until the situation on its lines is better in hand. The Pittsburgh terminals were fairly well cleared, through the efforts of the General Operating Committee, but congestion has worked back along the line to the small yards and sidings which is really causing more trouble than terminal congestion. The accumulation of loaded coal and coke cars at sidings in the coke region is an illustration of the effects of this "line" trouble which it is the present determination to remove, if possible.

The original embargo order placed the ban on practically every commodity except coal and coke, and in both car and less than car load lots. On Tuesday a modification was directed as affecting the Connellsville division. Shipments of any character in car load lots, westbound are now being accepted at Cumberland, and points west, except from Johnstown, and from the Pittsburgh division, with the exception of consignments to points on the Pittsburgh division between Wheeling and Wheeling Junction and some other western territory.

With the modification in temperature being experienced but it is so far from all that is necessary to restore normal conditions that traffic is certain to be very much hindered by movement for some time to come.

EAT WHAT YOU WANT WHEN YOU WANT IT

People who consistently deny their appetite some particular dish appearing suddenly to their palate, because indigestion has always meant subsequent suffering, will think this a strange statement. It is a fact, however, that most people can, without fear of disturbing consequences, find the appetite within reason if the bowels are active and regular. Heavy dinners and late suppers can be enjoyed with impunity if, before retiring, one will take a spoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, a mild combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin that druggists sell for fifty cents a bottle. Gentle in action and positive in effect, it regulates the bowels in an easy, natural way, without cramping or other discomfort, and is the ideal family corrective. Get a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin from your druggist and keep it in the house. Use it occasionally and you will find it can almost always bring you like without fear of consequences. A trial bottle can be obtained free of charge by writing to Dr. W. H. Caldwell, 436 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

The negro told Mayor John Duggan that if he could get back to Thompson No. 1 he would be able to take care of himself. The mayor gave him 50 cents for carfare.

A WORD OF WARNING

Comes From Washington to the Seekers of Government Clerical Positions.

Warning comes from Washington to those persons who have flooded the departments with applications for clerical positions, and are without qualifications or previous experience. The impression appears to exist that anyone who goes to Washington can easily secure a job at big wages. This is a grave mistake as many have discovered to their sorrow. The only agreed need for clerical workers is for experienced stenographers and typewriters.

This class of workers is cautioned, in order to avoid disappointment and expense, to take the civil service examination before going to Washington, or if not thus fortified, they should submit to an investigation of their qualifications by correspondence.

War-Savings Stamps

What They Are and Why You Should Buy Them.

III.

In the questions and answers which follow every feature of the War-Savings Stamp is fully explained by government experts who assisted in working out the details of the plan.

Thrift Stamps and Cards.
Q—If I do not have enough money saved up to buy a War-Savings Stamp and an only save in small amounts, what should I do?

A—Buy a 25-cent Thrift Stamp, at a post office, bank or other authorized agency and ask for a Thrift Card, to which you can attach your Thrift Stamp.

Q—Is there any charge for a Thrift Card?

A—No. It is given you to hold Thrift Stamps and contains a place for your name and address.

Q—How many Thrift Stamps will this card hold?

A—Sixteen stamps, which represents a value of $4.00.

Exchanging Thrift Cards for War-Savings Stamps.

Q—When I have filled the Thrift Card, what do I do?

A—Take it to a bank, post office or other authorized agency, surrender the card and pay in cash a few cents difference between the $1 worth of Thrift Stamps and the price of a War-Savings Stamp for the month in which the exchange is made.

Q—What do I do next?

A—You take the War-Savings Stamp given you in exchange for your Thrift Card, ask for a War-Savings Certificate, if you haven't one already, and attach the stamp to the certificate.

Q—Should I continue to buy Thrift Stamps?

A—Yes. Ask for a new Thrift Card and begin again.

Q—Do Thrift Stamps bear interest?

A—No.

Q—Then why are they issued?

A—To make it convenient for you to save in small amounts so that you can purchase a War-Savings Stamp which does bear interest.

Q—May I exchange Thrift Stamps for War-Savings Stamps at any time?

A—No. Only on or before December 31, 1918.

Lending Your Money to the Government.

Q—That security is behind the War-Savings Stamps?

A—The United States government promises to pay $5 for each stamp on January 1, 1923. This promise is backed by the faith and honor of the United States and by the taxing power of this country, which is the richest nation of the world.

Q—Why does the United States borrow its money?

A—To pay the expenses of the war.

Q—Then I lend to the government, would be safer to buy a government bond than these War-Savings Stamps?

A—Then a War-Savings Stamp is attached to a War-Savings Certificate it becomes a government obligation with the same security as the Liberty Bond now held by more than 10,000,000 Americans.

Q—Is the four per cent interest, compounded quarterly, on War-Savings Certificates paid in the same way as interest on Liberty Bonds?

A—No. The Liberty Bond interest is paid every six months, but the interest on the War-Savings Certificate accumulates and is paid to you in one sum on January 1, 1923.

Q—Why isn't the interest paid in the same manner on both War-Savings Certificates and Liberty Bonds?

A—It would be very complicated and expensive to pay interest every six months on $5 stamps and for that reason the United States Government retains the interest until January 1, 1923, at which time it pays you the compound interest and the principal, amounting to $5, the face value of the War-Savings Stamp.

Q—Should I sell Liberty Bonds to buy War-Savings Stamps?

A—No. The security behind Liberty Bonds and War-Savings Certificates is the same. Keep your Liberty Bonds, but buy War-Savings Stamps also.

Q—Is the money received from War-Savings Stamps and Thrift Stamps used for the same purpose as the money received from Liberty Bonds?

A—Yes.

Q—Should I take money out of the savings bank to buy War-Savings Stamps?

A—No. You should save as much as you can every day and buy Thrift Stamps and War-Savings Stamps with these savings.

Q—How did Congress authorize these War-Savings Certificates?

A—By act approved September 24, 1917.

Q—How large an amount of War-Savings Certificates can be issued under the present law?

A—$2,000,000,000.

Transfer.

Q—Can I sell or transfer my War-Savings Certificate to anyone?

A—No. The certificate is not transferable and is of value to the owner only, except in case of death or disability.

Q—Should I sell my Thrift Card to anyone?

A—No. Your Thrift Card has your name on it and should be filled with sixteen 25-cent Thrift Stamps and exchanged at a post office, bank, or other authorized agency for a War-Savings Stamp.

Registration.

Q—Should I register a War-Savings Certificate?

A—Yes. If you wish to secure payment in case the certificate is lost.

Q—Am I required to register it?

A—No.

Q—Where can I register it?

A—At any post office of the first, second, or third class, subject to such regulations as the Postmaster General may prescribe.

Q—When can I register?

A—At the time of purchase or any later time.

Q—Is there any charge for registration?

A—No.

Q—Can I register Thrift Stamps on my Thrift Card?

A—No.

Q—Can I register a War-Savings Certificate that is not attached to a War-Savings Certificate?

A—No.

Q—Should a married woman use her own or her husband's name when registering?

A—Her own—Mrs. Mary Brown, not Mrs. John Brown.

At the Theatres

THE PARAMOUNT.

"MY LITTLE BOY."—A five part feature in which Ella Hall, is seen in the leading role, supported by an all star cast, is being presented today.

"My Little Boy," will delight everyone who sees it. The even excellence of the cast is one of the chief virtues of the picture. What happened at Christmas time in a happy home made still more joyful by the visit of a relative who has always been an "Old Scrooge," will be displayed in the picture. Little Zoe Rae plays the role of the child who works wonders with the disposition of an old "grouch."

Emory Johnson appears as the young husband and Gretchen Lederer will give the lie to the pessimists who have been cracking jokes about "nothers-in-law." Aside from the fiction conveyed in the screen presentation of "My Little Boy," there will be a heart interest of unusual force centering in the leading players Emory Johnson and Ella Hall's honeymoon trip. They were married only a few days before they began work on the picture and the love scenes therefore involved no acting. They were the "real thing."

Tomorrow "The Volunteer," a World feature in which the most distinguished cast ever assembled for a movie will be presented, with Madge Evans, the wonderful child actress, as the star. Carlyle Blackwell, Monique Love, Ethel Clayton, June Elvidge, and Evelyn Greely appear in the production.

THE SOISSON.

"THAT MOTHER O' MINE." After all is said and done it's the clean play, well acted and beautifully staged that satisfies the average theatergoer and the phenomenal success attained by the Manhattan Players at the Soisson theater has proven their policy to be a success.

The company came here little more than a week ago and are attracting the biggest crowds of the season. A notable feature is the fact that many who seldom if ever darken the portals of the theater are regular patrons of the Manhattan Players. Never for an instant is vulgarity tolerated by word or action.

The plays are wholesome and thoroughly delightful. Tonight and at the matinee and evening performances tomorrow the Manhattan Players will appear in "That Mother O' Mine," a powerful four act play in which motherhood is lauded to the skies. There is something wonderful in the very name mother. In all sincerity the management recommends "That Mother O' Mine" as one of the sweetest, irresistible stories ever evolved by the playwright. Don't fail to bring every member of the family to see it.

Friday and Saturday the Manhattan Players will produce a melodramatic thriller "The Convict And The Girl" with the full strength of the company in the cast.

ORPHEUM THEATRE.

"THE BRANDED SOUL."—A five reel William Fox photoplay, is the chief attraction today. Miss Gladys Brockwell, the well known emotional actress appears in the leading role.

Another interesting feature of the show today is "The Mutual Weekly," showing all the latest and current events. Tomorrow, Margarita Fischer is starred in a patriotic five reel photodrama, "Miss Jackie of the Army." For the first time in the history of Connelville a real, flesh and blood motion picture actress is to visit here and will appear in person at this theatre. She is Miss Myrtle Stegman.

THE ARCADE.

Zarrow's Vaudeville Revue last night offered an evening of rare entertainment at the Arcade. With all talented artists the show has improved much since its last visit in June. McConnell & Lockhart, the topicians, are well known to Connelville audiences and again won hosts of admirers. The Kolbiers are singers and dancers of the refined kind, and Miss Manning is also known to Connelville theatregoers, and is a delightful vocalist. The chorus is composed of principals. Today and tomorrow "The Fighting Trail" will be on the screen.

Gives Her Opinion of New Medicine.

"I recommend Tanlac to all my sister Owls and to every one who feels the need of a true tonic," says Mrs. Maggie Berger, the well-known ex-President of the Harrisburg Order of Owls. Mrs. Berger lives at 1532 Thompson street, that city.

"My health had been very poor for a long time, as many friends can testify. My liver was not working right and had been poisoning my whole system for a long time; I felt tired and run down, yet when I went to bed at night I couldn't sleep and would get up in the morning tired. I was a nervous wreck as a result of my suffering, for I was afflicted with rheumatism, too, and the pain in my knees, shoulders and particularly my back was almost unbearable. I had been taking Tanlac now for several weeks, and I can truthfully say that I am fully restored to health and happiness. I feel strong and energetic; I sleep well and restfully; my appetite is fine; my nerves are quieted and much stronger, and all of those rheumatic pains have gone."

Two Months of His Busy Career.

Planning for the income tax drive, the largest of its kind in the history of the nation, Collector of Internal Revenue C. G. Lewellyn of Pittsburgh is only one of the public school teachers and children, motion picture houses and a special staff of government employees. In discussing the income tax regulations Mr. Lewellyn said:

"In view of the fact that all real citizens are affected by the law must assist the federal authorities. I am arranging with the school authorities to have the teachers impress upon the children the necessity of the tax so that they may carry it home to their parents."

If the person filing the tax is married and has a family, according to Mr. Lewellyn, he may subtract from the above stated amount $4 for each child under 18 years old, if the tax is $10 or less. If the child is above 18 years old, subtract an additional $4 for each child from the amount of the tax above $10. If the income is derived from dividends of stock corporations, subtract from the above tax two per cent of the amount of such dividend if the tax is $10 or less.

If the tax is above $10, subtract an additional two per cent of the dividends from the amount of the tax above $10. If more than $5,000 in second Liberty Loan bonds is owned by the person filing the return, interest thereon is exempt from all taxes.

If more than $5,000 of said bonds are owned, subtract two percent of the interest on the additional bonds above $5,000 if the tax is $40 or less.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and a famous old-time remedy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to an unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

Physicians Warn Public Against
Taking Substitutes for Nuxated IronSay That Ordinary Metallic Iron Preparations
Cannot Possibly Give the Same

STRENGTH, POWER AND ENDURANCE

Besides, they may upset the digestion, disturb the secretions and thereby do far more harm than good, and that Health Officials and Physicians Everywhere should caution the public against accepting these inferior products.

Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly Physician of Bellevue Hospital (United Dept.), New York, and the Western Chester County Hospital, Former Health Commissioner Wm. R. Kerr, Dr. H. Vail, formerly Physician in the Baltimore Hospital and a Medical Examiner; Dr. A. J. Newman, former Police Surgeon of Chicago; Dr. Ferdinand King, New York Physician and Medical Author, and others give valuable advice and information on the use of organic iron as a tonic, strength and blood builder.

Careful investigation by physicians among druggists and patients has revealed the fact that there are thousands of people taking iron who do not distinguish between organic iron and metallic iron and that such persons often fail to obtain the vital energy, strength and endurance which they seek, simply because they have taken the wrong form of iron. They seem to think iron is iron on the same theory that a potato would be a potato whether cooked or raw, entirely ignoring the fact that the cooking process makes certain important cellular changes in the potato that renders it far more easy of assimilation by the blood and tissues. No one would hardly expect to derive the same strength from eating raw potatoes that he would from eating cooked potatoes, yet according to the opinions of physicians who have made careful study of the subject, taking raw, unprepared, metallic iron is a good deal like eating raw potatoes.

Therefore physicians advise those who feel the need of a strength and blood builder to go to their family druggists and obtain a prescription calling for organic iron—Nuxated Iron—and present this to their druggist so that they may have no question about obtaining the proper article. But if they do not wish to go to the trouble of getting a prescription for Nuxated Iron, they may be sure to look on the label and see that the words NUXATED IRON are printed thereon. Not Nux and Iron nor any other form of iron, but NUXATED IRON.

The remarkable results produced by Nuxated Iron and its widespread sale, being estimated that over three million people annually are today using it, has led to the offering of numerous substitutes and physicians say that health officials and doctors everywhere should caution the public against accepting these substitutes which may be a compound which may in many cases produce far more harm than good, just like a meal of raw potatoes might uproot the stomach of a delicate person and really injure him instead of furnishing nutriment in the form of strength. The wide-spread publication of the above information has been suggested by Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly Physician of the Baltimore Hospital and a Medical Examiner, Dr. H. Vail, formerly Physician in the Baltimore Hospital and a Medical Examiner, Dr. A. J. Newman, former Police Surgeon of Chicago, and Dr. Ferdinand King, New York Physician and Medical Author, and others, so that the public may be informed of this subject and protected from the use of metallic iron under the delusion that it is Nuxated Iron, or at least something as good as Nuxated Iron. In regard to the value of Nuxated Iron, Dr. Sullivan says: "I have strongly emphasized the great necessity of their blood examinations of their weak, anemic, run-down patients. I have seen thousands of patients who, after years of suffering, have been able to transform the food they eat into brown muscle tissue and brain. Without iron in your blood you cannot possibly pass through the body, something like corn through an old mill with rollers so wide apart that the mill cuts grind."

But you can't make strong, vigorous, successful, sturdy men by feeding them metallic iron. The old forms of metallic iron must go through a semidigestive process to transform them into organic iron—Nuxated Iron—before they are ready to be taken up and assimilated by the human system.

Former Health Commissioner Wm. R. Kerr of Chicago says: "From my own experience with Nuxated Iron, I feel that it is such a valuable remedy that it ought to be used in every hospital and prescribed by every physician in this country. I have taken it myself and experienced its health-giving strength building effect and in the line of public welfare I feel it my duty to make known the results of its use. I am well past my three score years and want to say that I believe my own great physical activity is due largely today to my personal use of Nuxated Iron."

Dr. H. B. Vail, formerly Physician in the Baltimore Hospital, and a Medical Examiner, says: "Throughout my experience on Hospital staffs and as Medical Examiner, I have been astonished at the number of patients who have vainly desired for various diseases, when in reality their delicate condition was simply the result of lack of iron in the blood. Time and again I have prescribed organic iron—Nuxated Iron—and surprised patients at the rapidity with which the weakness and general debility were replaced by a renewed feeling of strength and vitality. I took Nuxated Iron myself to build me up after a serious case of nervous exhaustion. The effects were apparent after a few days and within three weeks it had virtually revitalized my whole system and put me in a superb physical condition."

Dr. A. J. Newman, former Police Surgeon of Chicago, and former House Surgeon, Jefferson Park Hospital, Chicago, says: "It has been my privilege to assist in keeping Chicago's five thousand bluecoats in good health and better fighting trim, so that they would be physically equipped to withstand all manner of storms and dangers of nature's elements. Recently I was prompted through an endorsement of Nuxated Iron by Dr. Schuyler C. Jacques, Valhalla surgeon, St. Elizabeth's Hospital, New York, to give it a trial. This remedy has proven through my own tests of it to be a very preparation I have ever used for creating red blood, building up the nerves, strengthening the muscles and correcting digestive disorders."

Dr. Ferdinand King says: "Doctors should prescribe more organic iron—Nuxated Iron—for their nervous, run-down, weak, haggard-looking patients. It means more to them. The skin of the feeble man or woman is pale, the muscles lack tone, the brain fails and the memory fades, and often they become weak, nervous, irritable, despondent and often they are unable to do their work. When the iron goes from the blood of women, the troubles so common to their gender begin. In fact, a young man is really very, notwithstanding his age. The secret, he said, was finding iron. Nuxated Iron filled him with renewed life. At 40 he was in bad health, at 46 he was careworn and nearly all in now at 50, after taking Nuxated Iron, he was as vigorous as a young man. If people would only take Nuxated Iron when they feel weak or run-down, instead of drinking themselves with habit-forming drugs, stimulants and alcoholic beverages, I am convinced that in this way they could ward off disease, prevent it becoming chronic, in thousands of cases, and thereby the lives of thousands might be saved who now die every year from pneumonia, grippe, kidney, liver, heart trouble, and other dangerous maladies. The real true cause which started their disease was nothing more or less than a weakened condition brought on by lack of iron in the blood. Thousands of people suffer from iron deficiency and do not know it. If you are not strong as well you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see for yourself how much you have gained."

NUTRITION—Nuxated Iron, which is prescribed and recommended above by physicians in such a great variety of cases, is not a patent medicine nor secret remedy, but one which is well known to druggists everywhere. Unlike the older, inorganic iron products, it is easily assimilated, does not injure the teeth, make them black, nor upset the stomach, on the contrary, it is a most potent remedy in nearly all forms of indigestion as well as for nervous, run-down conditions. The manufacturers have such confidence in Nuxated Iron, that they offer to forfeit $100.00 to any charitable institution if they cannot take any man or woman under 60 who consumes it in a most potent remedy for iron deficiency in four weeks' time, provided they have no serious organic trouble. They also offer to refund your money if it does not at least double your strength and endurance in ten days' time. It is dispensed in this

PROMPT INVESTIGATION NEEDED.

There must be some circumstance of condition that, open spigots to cause so drastic a failing of the water supply that the residents of East Park, the Pinnacle and other elevated sections of the city are without water.

There has been considerable moderation in the temperature since the low point was reached on Sunday. Hence there is no occasion for householders to open their spigots as a precaution against freezing. But even if that practice were being indulged to any considerable extent, it seems improbable that the amount of water withdrawn from the mains by this means would be sufficient to deprive large areas of the city of water altogether. In the summer months when the general consumption is greater, and the sprinkling of lawns, watering of gardens, washing automobiles and the streets make heavy drafts upon the supply, conditions such as now prevail in East Park and elsewhere have never been known to exist.

If the pumps at the pumping station are running to capacity and are still unable to maintain the pressure, there is plainly some waste of water which has not been located. The leaks which have occurred on South Pittsburgh street and Cedar avenue may be indications of what is in reality the cause of the drop in pressure. It is well known that much of the piping system is not in a condition to withstand any very considerable increase in pressure. Many of the pipes are old, some are laid in soil which has a corroding effect; there are other sections which may have become subject to electrolysis because of proximity to the electrically charged street railway tracks. These conditions, single or in combination, may have resulted in a number of underground leaks, no evidence of which appears on the surface.

That this is entirely possible has been demonstrated in Mount Pleasant, as noted in the news columns of The Courier yesterday. Only by chance was it discovered that a broken main was discharging thousands of gallons of water into a sewer without any sign on the surface that a leak existed.

It is a wise precaution of Mayor Duggan that householders refrain from opening their spigots to the limit, and otherwise avoiding all possible waste of water so long as any portion of the city is without either supply or fire protection. At the same time an investigation should be made, and made promptly, to determine just what is the cause of the deficiency in the supply. The risk to the efficiency of our fire protection is altogether too great to take any chances that the existing dangerous condition will right itself, or will be removed by simply telling the people to keep their spigots closed.

TWO TIMELY SUGGESTIONS.

Two suggestions are before the city council which are deserving of very thoughtful consideration. One is practicable for early adoption, the other can probably not be acted upon until after the war.

The first has to do with the employment of a woman probation officer. Her functions would be less in the nature of a guardian of the peace and order of the city, by making arrests and running down violators of the law, than to exercise a maternal care over delinquents, particularly those of her own sex, and to keep in close touch with families who might from time to time be placed in distress through misfortunes of their own or otherwise. In a large way such an officer, if fully qualified by temperament and disposition for the position, would serve the very worthy purpose of preventing young persons from taking those steps which would eventually lead to the commission of offenses against the law and ordinances. In other words, her mission would be more in the direction of preventing offenses than in the detection of offenders. If this could be accomplished to any appreciable degree the creation of the office would be amply justified.

The other suggestion, for the establishment of a free dispensary, is in line with the view the more enlightened communities are taking that an obligation rests upon them to make provision for the care of the less fortunate citizens in other ways than doling out a more or less unwilling charity for their bodily support and comfort only. Illness in some form or another is an almost invariable accompaniment of certain elements in the population of every city, large or small. It is a recognized duty of the public to take care of such cases. The free dispensary is the best agency through which this can be done.

The work of the State Tubercular

Dispensary in our city, about which so little has been heard, shows the good that can be accomplished in this direction. This establishment cares for tubercular patients only, but its service has revealed the great need for an establishment having an enlarged scope. This cannot be done through the state organization, that being devoted to a limited and specific object. A city dispensary can alone serve the needs of the community in the largest way.

As has been pointed out the absence of military duty of so many of the city's physicians makes it impracticable to develop the dispensary into a going institution at this time. Plans for it can be wrought out, however, in readiness for its establishment later.

CURBING THE FEE GRABBERS.

Governor Cornwell of West Virginia has set his brother governors an example in dealing with the aldermen, notaries and justices who have been granting off the registrants by charging fees, often excessive at that, for taking their affidavits and otherwise aiding them in filling out their questionnaires.

The chief executive of the Mountain State has issued a warning to officials of this class intimating very broadly that he will revoke their commissions if the practice is continued. What he says in this connection applies so aptly to other states where the qualifying officers have taken a similar view of their opportunities, rather than of their patriotic duty, that it is very much to the point to reproduce Governor Cornwell's statements.

"The War Department," said he, "considers section 10 of the regulations as requiring officers to take affidavits of registrants without cost to them, and besides that, the President, in his proclamation, has commanded all state, county and other officers to render such aid as may be properly required of them in carrying out the selective service law. The War Department has suggested the advisability of cancelling the commissions of notaries charging registrants. I am calling attention to this matter believing that officers making charges for this service do not realize the possible serious consequences of their acts."

The offending officials who are proof against public condemnation of their lack of patriotism may yet find that they can be reached in another and effective way. They are taking long chances with the loyal governor of West Virginia if they think they can safely disregard his timely caution. Governor Burroughs has given no expression of his attitude on this question, but there is no question that he would have quite as much authority as the governor of West Virginia if he were disposed to take time from his absorbing pastime of political state making long enough to exercise his authority.

But Sunday says that when the Kaiser's time comes, "and it's not far off, the devil will be at the gates to keep him out of hell." Nothing left for Wilhelm but to start a rival establishment of his own. This may not be located in, but is certain to be made in Germany and will be conducted, of course, along the lines of "German efficiency."

Connellsville merchants don't need to be urged to clear the freight stations of their freight accumulations. What they would like to see is an incoming accumulation to clear up.

The gas stove in the unventilated room still holds its record as first aid to the undertaker.

East Park and the Pinnacle are in imminent danger of becoming "bone dry."

Now that a bust of Shakespeare adorns the high school building the school board can soothe on "To pay or not to pay" the grade teachers an advance in salaries without fear that they will be charged with plagiarizing the Bard of Avon.

The peaceboat at Hrest-Lilovsk has "sunk" again.

Scotchmen have a sort of human rival to the Casparis stone quarry, but on a smaller scale.

The new city council made a fair running start on boosting salaries.

The real fighters of Germany who won the iron cross are disgusted with the liberal bestowal of this decoration on the "home warriors" and are returning theirs to the minister of war. They need to go one step farther and give Kaiser Bill the double cross.

Seems mild and summery today compared with a few days ago.

The water company needs a few slouts to put on the trail of the missing water.

The new council got down to business without any hot moment. That comes from having some veterans in the ranks.

Any portion of an income prepared to shed some portion of it to the revenue collector.

MILITARY TRAINING.

Bill Jones Tinkle worked for me, before the army got him, and such a slouchy youth was he. I often yearned to swap him. He walked with an unbecomingly stoop, he shambled and he shuffled, and didn't seem to care a whoop whose minute were sorely ruffled. When in repose he seemed to slump, as though his joints were falling; he had legs against a pump, a building or a railing. And when he went away to drill, I said, "Well he is a pity, if they have many men like Bill down there near Junction City. An army made of gunning, gassing, swabbed and double-jointed, will look, in France, like twenty cents—half will be disappointed. I saw this lad the other day, and he was white and waxy; I hardly knew the blooming jay, he was so clean and classy. Erect, alert, well-groomed and slim, he walked with spring and vigor, as though his legs belonged to him, and not to some jay figure. The army took this reuben green, and made him an Apollo; oh, wondrous transformation, seen—it beats the band all hollow! The army has magicians' heat; it takes the knock-kneed stunner, the man who is all neck and feet, and makes of him a winner.

HIS LIFE WORK.

He made no special bid for fame. He dreamed no greater dream than this. The splendor of an honest name. No deed of glory marked his years. But as he lived from day to day He quickly dried his loved one's tears. And brushed a lot of care away. He carried kindness where he went. He spoke the simple words of cheer. That much to many a toiler meant. His lips were never known to sneer. The biggest job he ever had Was that providing clothes and food And being a kind and patient dad. Unto his happy little brood. 'Til little for himself he sought. He chose to tread the quiet ways Among the ranks of men he fought. But home was where he looked for praise. If they were proud of him and smiled To see him coming home at night To life his soul was rectified. And he possessed supreme delight. No wise historians will tell The record of his work on earth: No song of poet here will swell. Men's testimony to his worth. He made no special bid for fame. His crowning glory lay in this. That those who live and wear his name A splendid father long will miss.

MADE-IN-GERMANY LIES CIRCULATED IN CANADA

Canada is also having trouble with Made-in-Germany lies circulated to hinder Canadian food conservation according to an official statement received from the Canadian food controller by the United States food administration.

The stories bothering Canada are of the same general character as those the United States food administrator recently denounced in this country, such as the ridiculous salt and blinding famine tales and the report that the government would seize housewives' stocks of home canned goods.

The Canadian food controller estimates that when the people listen to and pass on such stories, each one has the power of destruction that lies in a battalion of soldiers.

"Stories without even a vestige of foundation have been scattered broadcast," said the Canadian statement. "Nor have they come to life casually. They have started simultaneously in different parts of the country and in each instance have been calculated to arouse public indignation."

"They are insidious, subtle, persistent. Bit by bit they dissipate public trust, the great essential in the work of food control."

"It lies with every individual to forebear from criticism; to refrain from passing on the vagrant and harmful story, and thus the more effectively to co-operate in work which is going to mean more than the majority of people yet realize."

Upsetting a Crowd.

"I have just come back from forty-eight hours' duty in Paris," writes an officer in a Highland regiment. "My servant and I, both in the kit, were buying some stuff outside a shop, as one does in Paris, when a crowd of about twenty people gathered round, and simply stared—some amused, some open-mouthed, and some doubtful in admiration. I was amused at first, but it got a bit too much of a good thing, and my servant, who is a wag, said: 'Shall I land round the hat.'"

So, not thinking he would, I said: 'Yes, do,' and—If he didn't whip off his Balmoral and take it round perfectly seriously, with a childlike expression on his face. They cleared off all right, some grinning, and others looking very sheepish. But we got nothing."

Marriages in England.

The war has resulted in 200,000 English people being married between August, 1914, and June, 1917, who in the ordinary course would not have married. The marriage rate for 1915 was the highest recorded, 194. These figures are given out by Sir Bernard Mallet, registrar general of births, deaths and marriages in England.

FIGHT FOR YOUR LIFE

Duty Demands
Robust Health

Fight to get it and keep it

Fight—fight day in and day out to prevent being overtaken by ill and ails. Keep wrinkles from marring the cheek and the body from losing its youthful appearance. Guard against ill health. Fight when ill-health is coming with its pallor and pains, defects and declining powers. Fight to stay its course and drive it off.

But fight intelligently. Don't fight without weapons that can win the day for without the intelligent use of effective weapons the pallor, aches and weakness grows and a seemingly strong man or woman oftentimes becomes a prey to ill after all.

You will not find this class of persons in the hypoterrin ranks. No unhealthy, dull, draggy, droopy persons in that line. It is a hale, hearty, robust aggregation of quick-stoppers who view life in a joyous frame of mind and are mentally and physically equal to any emergency. Hypoterrin stands for sound body and sound mind—it is the invigorating tonic of the times.

It is a powerful, safe, and health-preserving. Fight to hold the vigor of a sound body with hypoterrin or to stay the process of decay and restore health and strength—you win. This tonic of amazing, wonder-working properties has been approved by physicians as a restorer and safeguard of health.

It is a thoroughly scientific preparation of the very elements necessary to tone up the stomach and nerves, to build strong, vital tissue, make pure blood, firm flesh and solid, active, tireless muscles.

Hypoterrin contains those mighty strength-producing agents, leucithin and neptunite, in a form best adapted to benefit the body and its organs. Its ingredients are absolutely necessary to the blood. In place comes out of ten a run-down condition, yellow, pale complexion that "all in" feeling and feeble bodies are due to lack of leucithin and iron in the system.

Your mental and physical strength and endurance depends upon a healthy and iron-laden blood. A healthy stomach, with these you can meet life at any age.

This wonder tonic, hypoterrin, which is as perfect as science can get to nature, meets every essential demand of the human organism. It is safe and sure and a boon to run-down, worn-out men and women. Hypoterrin means nature's own way of bringing color to the cheeks, strength to the body, and keeping the vigor and buoyancy of youth. The powder and paint way of effecting beauty is not needed by hypoterrin women and girls. Their blood filled with nature's beauty stores, creates conditions that give freshness and grace to the body and the glow of health to the cheeks.

No need of going through life sickly and always feeling miserable in this age of medical science. Join the hypoterrin ranks. It puts into you the energy and vigor you ought to have and puts the life into your body and mind that inspires the confidence that you control the world on an equal footing with anyone.

Hypoterrin may be had at your druggist or direct from us for $1.00 per bottle. It is well worth the price. The I Remedies Co., Cincinnati, Ohio.

February and March stormed a path furiously across the calendar. Higher and higher the drifts piled about the cabin, till at length it was banked to the eaves with snow save where Bill shoveled it away to let light to the windows. Day after day they kept indoors, stoking up the fire, listening to the triumphant whoop of the winds.

"Snow, snow!" Hazel burst out one day. "Frost that cuts you like a knife. I wish we were home again—or some place."

"So do I, little person," Bill said gently. "But spring's almost at the door. Hang on a little longer. We've made a fair stake, anyway, if we don't wash an ounce of gold."

"How are we going to get it all out?" She voiced a troublesome thought.

"Shoulder pack to the Skeena," he answered lachrymously. "Build a dugout there, and float downstream. Portage the rapids as they come."

"Oh, Bill!" She came and leaned her head against him caressingly. "Our poor ponies! And it was all my carelessness."

"Never mind, hon," he comforted. "They blazed out without suffering. And we'll make it like a charm. Be game—it'll soon be spring."

By April the twentieth the addition of Jack Frost was complete. A kinderlier spirit ruled the land, and Bill Wagstaff began to talk of gold.

Pursued in patient hope or furious toil,
Breeder of discord, wars, and murderous hate;
The victor's spoil.

So Hazel quoted, leaning over her husband's shoulder. In the bottom of his pan, shining among a film of black and, lay half a dozen bright specks, varying from pin-point size to the bigness of a grain of wheat.

"That's the stuff," Bill murmured. "It looks as if we'd struck it pretty fair. It's time, too—the June rise will hit us like a whirlwind one of these days."

"About what is the value of these little pieces?" Hazel asked.

"Oh, fifty or sixty cents," he answered. "Not much by itself. But it seems to be uniform over the bar, and I can wash a good many pans in a day's work."

"I should think so," she remarked. "It didn't take you ten minutes to do that one."

"Whitely Lewis and I took out over two hundred dollars a day on that other creek last spring—no, a year last spring, it was," he observed reminiscently. "This isn't as good, but it's not to be sneezed at, either. I think I'll make me a rocker."

"I can help, can't I?" she said eagerly.

"Sure," he smiled. "You help a lot. Little person, just sitting around and keeping me company."

"But I want to work," she declared. "I've sat around now till I'm getting the fidgets."

"All right, I'll give you a job," he returned good naturedly. "Meantime, let's eat that lunch you pucked up here."

In a branch of the creek which flowed down through the basin, Bill had found plentiful colors as soon as the first big run-off of water had fallen. He had followed upstream painstakingly, panning colors always, and now and then a few grains of coarse gold to encourage him in the quest.

The loss of their horses precluded ranging far afield to that other glacial stream which he had worked with Whitely Lewis when he was a free lance in the North. He was close to his base of supplies, and he had made wages—with always the prospector's lure of a rich strike on the next bar.

"In the morning," said he, when lunch was over, "I'll try along the ax and some rails and a shovel, and get busy."

That night they trudged down to the cabin in high spirits. Bill had washed out enough during the afternoon to make a respectable showing on Hazel's outboard landlubbered. And Hazel was in a gleeful mood over the fact that she had unearthed a big nugget by herself. Bill's luck, Bill said teasingly, but that did not diminish her elation.

As the days passed there seemed no question of their complete success. Bill fabricated his rocker, a primitive, boxlike device with a blanket screen and transverse staves below. It was faster than the pan, even rude as it was, and it caught all but the finer particles of gold.

A queer twist of luck put the cap-sheaf on their undertaking. Hazel ran a splinter of wood into her hand, thus putting a stop to her activities with shovel and pan. And the wound lost its soreness she was forced to be idle. So she rammed along the creek one afternoon, armed with hook and

But even with abnormal strength and endurance, it was killing work to buck those ragged slopes with a heavy load. Only by terrible, unrelenting effort could he advance any appreciable distance. They were footsore, and their bodies ached with weariness that varied on pain when they gained the pass that cut the summit of the Klappan range.

"Well, we're over the hump," Bill remarked thankfully. "It's a downhill shoot to the Skeena. I don't think it's more than fifty or sixty miles to where we can take to the water."

They made better time on the western slope, but the journey became a matter of sheer endurance. Food was scanty—four and salt and taut; with meat and fish got by the way. And the black flies and mosquitoes swarmed about them maddeningly day and night.

So they came at last to the Skeena and Hazel's heart misgave her when she took note of its swirling reaches, the sinuous eddies—a deep, swift, treacherous stream. But Bill rested overnight, and in the morning sought and found a stable cedar, and began to hew. Slowly the thick trunk shaped itself to the form of a bowl under the steady swing of his ax.

In a week it was finished. They loaded the sack of gold, the bundle of furs, their meager camp outfit and supplies, and swung off into the stream.

The Skeena drops fifteen hundred feet in a hundred miles. Wherever there are rapids, boiling stretches of white water in which many a good canoe has come to grief. Some of these they ran at imminent peril. Over the worst they lined the canoe from the bank. And in the second week of July they brought up at the head of Klappan Canyon. Hazel lay a few miles below. But the Klappan stayed there, a stable box out through old stone, in which the waters raged with a deafening roar. No man ventured into that wild gorge. They abandoned the dugout. Bill shung the sack of gold and the bale of furs on his back.

"It's the last lap, Hazel," said he. "We'll leave the rest of it for the first Slawh that happens along."

So they set out bravely to trudge the remaining distance. And as the fortunes of the trail sometimes befall, they raised an Indian camp on the bank of the river at the mouth of the canyon. A ten-dollar bill made them possessors of another canoe, and an hour later the roofs of Hazelton cropped up above the bank.

"Oh, Bill," Hazel called from the bow. "Look! There's the same old steeper tied to the same old bank. We've been gone a year, and yet the world hasn't changed a mile. I wonder if Hazelton has taken a Rip Van Winkle sleep all this time?"

"No fear," he smiled. "I can see some new houses—quite a few, in fact. And look—by Jingo! They're working on the grade. That railroad, remember?"

He drove the canoe alongside a float. A few loungers viewed them with frank curiosity. Bill cut out the treasure sack and the bale of furs, and tied the canoe.

"A new hotel, by Jove!" he remarked, when upon gazing the level of the town a new two-story building blazoned with a huge sign its function as a hostelry. "Getting quite metropolitan in this neck of the woods. Say, little person, do you think you can relish a square meal? Planked steak and lobster salad—huh? I wonder if they could rustle a salad in this neck of the woods? Say, do you know I'm just beginning to find out how hungry I am for the best-possible. Aren't you, hon?"

She was; frankly so. For long monotonous meals she had been struggling against just such cravings. Impossible of realization, and therefore all the more tantalizing. She had been a year in the wilderness, and the wilderness had not only lost its glamor, but had become a thing to flee from. She bestowed a glad pressure on her husband's arm as they walked up the street, Bill carrying the sack of gold perched carelessly on one shoulder.

"Say, their enterprise has gone the length of establishing a branch bank here, I see."

He called her attention to a square-footed edifice, its new-boarded walls as yet gullied of paint, except where a row of black letters set forth that it was the Bank of British North America.

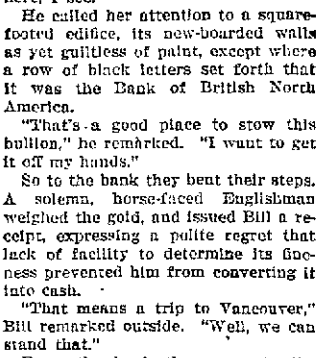

"That's a good place to stow this bullion," he remarked. "I want to get it off my hands."

So to the bank they bent their steps. A solemn, horse-faced Englishman weighed the gold, and issued Bill a receipt, expressing a polite regret that lack of facility to determine its goodness prevented him from converting it into cash.

"That means a trip to Vancouver," Bill remarked outside. "Well, we can stand that."

From the bank they went to the hotel, registered, and were shown to a room. For the first time since the summit of the Klappan Range, where her hand glass had suffered disaster, Hazel was permitted a clear view of herself in a mirror.

"I'm a perfect fright," she mourned. "Huh!" Bill grinned. "You're all right. Look at me."

FACE the FACTS

LET us face the facts. The war situation is critical. Unless the Allies fight as they never yet have fought, defeat threatens. Hungry men cannot fight at their best; nor hungry nations. France, England, and Italy are going hungry unless we feed them.

Wheat Savings—They must have wheat. It is the best food to fight on. It is the easiest to ship. We alone can spare it to them. By saving just a little less than a quarter of what we ate last year—we can support those who are fighting our battles. And we can do it without stinting ourselves. We have only to substitute another food just as good.

The Corn of Plenty—Corn is that food. There's a surplus of it. Providence has been generous in the hour of our need. It has given us corn in such bounty as was never known before. Tons of corn. Trainloads of corn. Five hundred million bushels over and above our regular needs. All we have to do is to learn to appreciate it. Was ever patriotic duty made so easy? And so clear?

America's Own Food—Corn! It is the true American food. The Indians, hardest of races, lived on it. Our forefathers adopted the diet and conquered a continent. For a great section of our country it has long been the staff of life. How well the South fought on it, history tells. Now it can help America win a world war.

Learn Something—Corn! It isn't one food. It's a dozen. It's a cereal. It's a vegetable. It's a bread. It's a dessert. It's nutritious; more food value in it, dollar for dollar, than meat or eggs or most other vegetables. It's good to eat; how good you don't know until you've had corn-bread properly cooked. Best of all, it's plentiful and it's patriotic.

Corn's Infinite Variety—How much do you know about corn? About how good it is? About the many delicious ways of cooking it? And what you miss by not knowing more about it? Here are a few of its uses:

There are at least fifty ways to use corn meal to make good dishes for dinner, supper, lunch or breakfast. Here are some suggestions:

HOT BREADS
Boston brown bread.
Hocake.
Muffins.
Biscuits.
Griddle cakes.
Waffles.

DESSERTS
Corn-meal molasses cake.
Apple corn bread.
Dumplings.
Gingerbread.
Fruit gems.

HEARTY DISHES
Corn-meal croquettes.
Meat and corn-meal dumplings.
Italian polenta.
Tamales.

The trail had dealt hardly with both. In the matter of their personal appearance. Tanned to an abiding brown, they were, and Hazel's one-time smooth face was spotted with fly bites and marked with certain scratches, suffered in the brush as they skirted the Klappan. Her hair had lost its sleek, glossy smoothness of arrangement. Her hands were reddened and rough. But chiefly she was concerned with the sad state of her apparel. She had come a matter of four hundred miles in the clothes on her back, and they bore unequivocal evidence of the journey.

"It's a perfect fright," she repeated, peevishly. "One's manners, morals, clothing, and complexion all suffer from too close contact with your beloved North, Bill."

"Thanks!" he returned shortly. "I suppose I'm a perfect fright, too. Long hair, whiskers, grimy, enlivened hands, and all the rest of it. A shave and a hair cut, a bath and a new suit of clothes will remedy that. But I'll be the same personality in every essential quality that I was when I sweated over the Klappan with a hundred pounds on my back."

"I hope so," she retorted. "I don't require the shave, thank goodness, but I certainly need a bath—and clothes. I wish I had the gray suit that's probably getting all moldy and moth-eaten at the Klappan cabin. I wonder if I can get anything fit to wear here?"

"Women live here," Bill returned quietly. "I suppose the stores supply 'em with duds. Unlabeled that bank roll of yours, and do some shopping."

She sat on the edge of the bed, regarding her reflection in the mirror with extreme disfavor. Bill figured his thick stubble of a beard for a thoughtful minute. Then he sat down beside her.

"What's a mollah, hon?" he wheeled. "What makes you such a crosser patch all at once?"

"Oh, I don't know," she answered dejectedly. "I'm tired and hungry, and I look a fright—and—oh, just everything."

"Tut, tut!" he remonstrated good-naturedly. "That's just food agal. We're out of the woods, literally and figuratively. If you're hungry, let's go and see what we can make this hotel produce in the way of grub, before we do anything else."

"I wouldn't go into their dining-room looking like this for the world," she said decisively.

"All right; you go shopping, then," he proposed. "While I take these furs up to old Heck's place and turn them into money. Then we'll dress, and make this hotel feed us the best they've got. Cheer up. Maybe it was tough on you to slice a year out of your life and leave it in a country where there's nothing but woods and eternal silence—but we've got around twenty thousand dollars to show for it, Hazel. And one can't get something for nothing. There's a price mark on it somewhere. Always. Be my good little girl—and see if you can't make one of these stores dig up a white waist and a black skirt, like you had on the first time I saw you."

He kissed her, and went quickly out. And after a long time of sober staring at her image in the glass Hazel shook herself impatiently.

"I'm a silly, selfish, incompetent little beast," she whispered. "Bill ought to thump me, instead of being kind. I can't do anything, and I don't know much, and I'm a scarecrow for looks right now. And I started out to be a real partner!"

GARAGE QUINTET WINS FAST GAME FROM MACCABEES

K. O. T. M. Five Suffers First Defeat in City League in Two Years.

PASSING GAME IS PLAYED

Lots of Pep Put in Contest And Garage Team Opens Throttle Up Leading From Beginning of The Game. Lady Maccabees Lose Preliminary.

The Maccabee basketball team lost the first game in two seasons in a city league game last night when the Garage raked in a game, 20-13. The going was easy for the motor boys, who started out on high gear and held the pace throughout the game. The Maccabees seemed to be staging a comeback in the first part of the second half when the score went from five to 11 in only a few minutes. The gain was cut down when the Garage started scoring again however.

The Baltimore & Ohio Clerks and the Elks had been scheduled to play last night, but owing to the taking of the Elks club into the league, it was necessary to change the future dates, the new schedule going into effect last night. Next Friday the Elks and Baltimore & Ohio will play. The preliminary will be between the Scottdale girls and the Lady Maccabees.

The playing of the city league teams is picking up and some real basketball is being put on at the Maccabee hall. Getis is in the game for the Garage last night and although it was his first game this year, he showed some speed, playing a good passing game. Hixon of the Garage, playing a guard against Bartley made four baskets, but was off form on his foul shooting.

There was a good attendance at the game last night, and it is expected that the hall will be filled next Friday when the Scottdale girls will be here for preliminary game.

The lineup:
Maccabees—13 Garage—20
Rist F. Getis
Bartley F. O'Laughlin
Sheller C. Moore
Fisher G. Cropp
Kennell G. Hixon

Field goals—Hixon 4; Bartley, Kennell, Getis, O'Laughlin, Moore. Foul goals—Fisher, 9 out of 19; Hixon, 6 out of 21. Referee—Wall.

The Lady Maccabees and the South Connelleville girls played what was probably the best preliminary game on the floor this year, the Lady Maccabees losing 10-8. The passing in the second half of the game was good, both teams showing up well in this department. At the end of the first half the Maccabees were ahead, 5-4. They increased their lead by two points just after the second half opened but the gap was closed by the South Connelleville team. The score went first to one team and then another. South Connelleville winning out by a basket.

The lineup:
L. Maccabees—8 S. Connelleville—10
Snyder F. K. Walker
Wagner F. Walters
M. Mosley C. H. Artzman
Whitmore G. DuBolt
A. Mosley G. Mootman

Field goals—K. Walker, 2; Wagner, H. Walker, Walters, H. Artzman. Foul goals—K. Walker, 2 out of 9; Whitmore, 4 out of 9. Substitutions—Percy for A. Mosley; H. Walker for Snyder; C. Artzman for Walters. Referee—Wall.

SIMPLE IN CUT BUT ELABORATE IN EFFECT

Though its lines are simple as simple can be, this distinctive afternoon gown of blue silk is charmingly elaborate. The reason is found in the rich embroidery with which the gown is trimmed. The embroidery is done in gay, though harmonizing, tones of blue, green, yellow and red silk. It outlines the deep armholes and appears again on the cuffs, besides being used for a large irregular patch on each side panel. A bead fringe in matching colors falls from the front at the waistline.

Mount Pleasant

Special to The Courier.
MOUNT PLEASANT, Jan. 16.—Burgess Stevens held his first session of police court last evening. Bob Lawson, who was arrested on a charge of being drunk and disorderly and fighting, was arraigned. Burgess Stevens told Mr. Lawson that he must either come across with $10 or spend five days in the borough lockup. After Lawson had expressed his opinion saying that he thought Stevens was very rude to prisoners he went to the lockup to begin a five-day sentence.

Freshman Officers Elected.
The Freshman class of high school organized and elected the following officers: President, James Shields; Secretary, Minnie Mae Crosby; Treasurer, Elizabeth Witt; doorkeeper, Leo Hanse. The colors selected were brown and white and the class flower, Lily of the valley.

Handkerchief Shower.
Mrs. M. W. Horner gave a handkerchief shower at her Main street home last evening for Miss Artie Doncaster, whose engagement to William C. Stevenson, Lieutenant of Company E, 110th Regiment, was recently announced. A very pleasant evening was spent and refreshments were served.

War Mission Service.
The war mission services were held in the First Baptist church last evening in charge of Rev. Ludwig and was very interesting.

Sewing For Walls.
Mrs. D. H. Storer of College avenue, W. C. T. U. state superintendent of war relief work, has taken up the relief of French war orphans gathered up from the highways with no records of their name and birth, and no information of themselves or families save the meagre bits of childish information that they can give. Philadelphia has gone into this work very heavily and almost all counties in the state are reporting something to Mrs. Storer along this line. The local W. C. T. U. union is making from unbleached muslin a slip that can be worn as chemise or if necessary can be used for a slip on dress. In some cases it will likely be necessary to use these for dresses.
